

DANA WEAVER

In 2000, Dana started to focus more on music expression through her vocal performances. To accomplish this objective, she began to hone in on her writing capabilities. Dana began collaborating with many artists and musicians. Her most treasured collaboration was with famed producer and original Basement Boys member, Neal Conway. Together, Dana and Neal have created a catalog of music, some of which has been featured in rotation on internet radio stations. Additionally, she has contributed to the projects of local artists such as Siren, Brian Wright, Urban Tea, and Lisa

Mack.

Besides being a vocalist, Dana is also a gifted pianist, arranger and composer of her material. Dana's music has been described as "thought-provoking" and "deep". Her jazz-kissed piano melodies and instrumentation can be heard on compositions like 'You' and 'My Inspiration' from the SoulFlow-ah (Soul Flower) CD. Dana yields to her "sultry and sexy" side on tracks like 'Understand Me' and 'Calling', which is definitely a crowd pleaser.
