

DJ KELLY G

Once ranked #2 on The Source magazine's Power 30 list, DJ Kelly G is a Chicago producer and remixer best known for his chart-topping smashes "Never Gonna Let You Go" with Tina Moore and "Go Down Moses" with Steve "Silk" Hurley.

Kelly G honed his unique production and DJ skills while working in the premiere Chicago dance clubs that led to working for the city's Number One rated station, WGCI. While at WGCI, Kelly G learned the ways of playing the hits from legendary program director, Elroy Smith. Shortly after joining the radio station, he began doing productions for many of the shows including Steve Harvey's Morning Show, George Wallace Show, Tom Joyner and Doug Banks. He eventually landed his own trend-setting four-hour mix show called DaBomb; a show that ultimately maintained a number one rated position for 5 years.

While on the radio, Kelly G garnered the attention of Chicago House Legend Steve "Silk" Hurley and began doing remixes and production for major artists including Ne-Yo, India.Arie, Mary J. Blige, Janet Jackson, Brandy, Faith Evans, Tina Moore and countless others. In addition to his work remixing the songs of today's top artists, Kelly G can be seen producing and scoring tracks for movies like Phunny Business and DJing exclusive events the world over. Although his heart is playing soulful Chicago House Music, Kelly G is well-experienced in rocking any Pop, Hip-Hop and R&B event. Some of his DJ appearances include doing parties for top celebrities like Kanye West, Diddy, and Jimmy Iovine and opening concerts for legends like Aretha Franklin, Eminem and LL Cool J.

Kelly G currently serves as Head of Music Programming for Sean "P. Diddy" Combs' new groundbreaking music channel REVOLT TV & Media. Prior to joining REVOLT, Kelly G served as Senior Director of Music Programming for Black Entertainment Television where he played a key role in launching various BET franchises including 106 & Park, Music Matters, and The BET Awards. Kelly G helped take BET's music and programming to trend-setting levels which ultimately jump-started and influenced the careers of many multi-platinum artists like Kanye West, Chris Brown, Lil Wayne, Drake, Miguel, Kendrick Lamar, J. Cole and countless others.
